

CGISA OPEN-BOOK EXAMINATION POLICY

ADDENDUM TO EXAMINATION RULES

Candidates are permitted to have with them only the following prescribed and authorised materials:

- The prescribed textbook(s) for each subject
- Any additional prescribed supplementary materials
- Copies of legislation as prescribed in the CGISA syllabus documents
- Course notes from your registered, accredited skills development provider.

CAUTIONS:

- Please be forewarned that using resource material during the examinations for reference purposes poses a different set of challenges that MUST NOT be underestimated. The purpose of these texts is for occasional reference only – improper use will affect the time available to answer comprehensively. Candidates who have NOT used reference material in examinations before are urged to formulate their approach very carefully before attempting to complete these examinations. Reference material is NOT intended to replace required learning and understanding of the syllabus requirements. Copying word for word out of the resource materials will earn you no marks.
- You may not access the internet during the examination.
- Plagiarism of any kind will be penalised. Please refer to the CGISA plagiarism policy for details.
